Dear delegates, chairs, guests, and friends of the Zurich Model United Nations Conference,

It is our great pleasure to welcome you to The Zurich Conference 2024, taking place from the 12th to the 14th of April. This year's conference theme is about how political systems shape the way we think and express ourselves in different ways. It is of utmost importance to understand the variety in both the same and different political systems and how we can utilize these differences in finding solutions to strengthen peace and stability all over the world.

As Co-Secretary-Generals, we believe that this conference presents a unique opportunity for young leaders from around the world to come together, engage in constructive dialogue, and work towards finding solutions to this critical challenge. Over the next few days, you will have the chance to participate in simulations of the United Nations General Assembly and other UN bodies, where you will dive into and represent the perspectives and interests of member states.

We encourage you to make the most of this experience. Seek out diverse perspectives, collaborate with your fellow delegates, and engage in meaningful debate as you work towards finding solutions to topics relating to Democracy. The skills and knowledge you gain from this conference will not only enrich your academic and professional development, but will also serve you well as you work towards building a more peaceful, just, and equitable world.

On behalf of the organizers of this conference, we wish you all a productive and memorable time in Zurich. We do not doubt that your time here will be an invaluable investment in your personal and professional development and a testament to your commitment to making a positive impact in the world.

The Co-Secretary-Generals of ZuMUN 2024:

Deniz Yildirim

Varun Agarwal

A Word of Welcome by the President of the University of Zurich

Welcome to the University of Zurich and to the 2024 Zurich Model United Nations (MUN) Conference!

University of Zurich ^{UZH}

The University of Zurich greatly values the international exchange of knowledge. We are therefore delighted that young people from all over the world take this opportunity to network and to exchange experiences under the aegis of MUN teams of UZH and ETH Zurich.

By addressing the topic of democracy, this year's ZuMUN Conference contributes to the debate on a highly relevant issue. Democracy is one of the cornerstones of inclusive governance, human rights protection, and - last, but not least - academic freedom. Yet challenges such as authoritarianism, corruption, electoral fraud, and restrictions on civil liberties continue to undermine democratic institutions worldwide.

In the coming days, it will be your task to analyze these challenges and to propose answers that are as multifaceted as the problems they attempt to solve. The Zurich Model United Nations Conference provides an excellent opportunity for debating complex issues while at the same time practicing rhetoric skills, leadership and intercultural understanding.

Dear participants, I am happy to have you here, and I hope that this conference will be an inspiring and enjoyable experience for all of you!

Prof. Dr. Michael Schaepman, President of UZH

Dear ZuMUN Delegates!

We offer the perfect curriculum for you!

MSc ETH in Science, Technology and Policy

Applicants with a Bachelor's degree from a Swiss university can apply from April 1 - April 30

What is the value of the MSc in Science, Technology and Policy?

The combination of science, engineering, and policy analysis skills is in high demand, particularly in government agencies, technology and life sciences firms, consulting firms, international organisations, industry, NGOs, and academia.

Who can join the programme?

The entry requirement is a Bachelor's degree in science or engineering (including mathematics and architecture).

Why you should get this degree!

To contribute effectively to policy-making, science and engineering competencies are essential, and so are policy analysis skills. The interdisciplinary Master's programme combines the best of both worlds, allowing students to not only strengthen their scientific and engineering knowledge but also acquire valuable expertise in policy analysis. Join us and bridge the gap between science, technology and policy!
